

CALAMBRA

Assaulted and Captured By an Expedition of American Soldiers.

REBELS FIGHT BRISKLY

Are Driven Out of the Town, Which Americans Decide to Garrison Forthwith.

INSURGENTS ATTACK OUTPOSTS

MANILA, P. I., July 27.—General Duff and force captured Calambra, on the south shore of Laguna de Bay, today after sharp fighting. The American loss was four killed and eleven wounded.

The town captured was the headquarters for General Malvar and the center of the insurgent telegraph system in southern Luzon. Its fall, therefore, a fortunate one. The capture was brought about in this way: Four hundred Washington volunteers under Major White, and a battery of the First Artillery left Manila yesterday morning in canoes and launches, joined four hundred and fifty regulars from the Twenty-third Infantry, under Captain E. J. Connelley, and the combined force of the Fourth Cavalry, under Captain McArthur, from Norong. The expedition was conveyed by the army gunboats Napah and Deane to a point off South Talim Island. It was a calm sea in the afternoon when the force arrived off Calambra, and at once the attack was made. The regulars led the way, the men of the Twenty-third and Fourth Cavalry waiting in water skiffs to the north and south of the town. The insurgents fled in haste as the men landed. They had been a fortnight in the town, and had been driven from their headquarters on the island. The Twenty-third and Fourth Cavalry were the only remaining insurgent garrisons on the lake. The vessel was hoisted and the men were taken to the shore. The fighting continued for four hours.

After their retreat, it was found that the rebels had removed their killed and wounded. About 1000 Americans were in the town against the rebels. The expedition was a complete success. The rebels were driven from the town and the Americans decided to garrison the town for the time being. The rebels were driven from the town and the Americans decided to garrison the town for the time being.

General Lawton and Prof. Worcester. Several times they were under heavy fire, but they escaped unhurt. This morning General Lawton visited the town, a natural hot spring, two miles west of Calambra, which was destroyed by the insurgents. The place had been formerly utilized by the Spaniards as a hospital for convalescents. General Lawton recommended a similar use of the place. Prof. Worcester remained in Calambra today doing missionary work among the natives. He also explained to them the benefits of the American government toward the Philip

LATER.—The insurgents fled this afternoon and finally reached the American outposts that had been established about Calambra. Several companies of the Twenty-third Infantry and Washington volunteers called out of town and again drove them to the hills after a brisk fight.

ELEVENTH DAY.

Cleveland Car Strike Near No Solution—Committee to Investigate.

CLEVELAND, O., July 27.—This is the eleventh day of the second street railway strike. There is no indication of a settlement, for both sides declare there is nothing to arbitrate. A special meeting of the city council will be held tonight to investigate the responsibility for the strike. Cars ran all last night on all the lines except two, and there was little trouble. Frank Wright, a young son of a striker, was shot in the leg last night by a non-union workman, but he was not seriously hurt.

MEN TO DIE.

PAUPERS SHIPPED.

Yesterday Was Evansville Day With the Mayor.

A German family from Texas and composed of about half a dozen people, applied to the mayor yesterday afternoon for transportation to Evansville, where they have relatives. They have been working their way as best they could, and could not even talk English intelligently enough to let the mayor know where they desired to go.

Tax collector Kraus was called in and acted as interpreter, and the impecunious family was sent to Evansville on the packet.

A Miss Tillman was yesterday sent from the Home of the Friendless to Evansville by Mayor Lang. She had been cared for at the above institution for some time, and has relatives in Evansville to whom she desired to go.

PRESIDENT HEUREAUX

Has Been Assassinated After Years of Unpopular Rule.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The state department this morning received a despatch from Santo Domingo confirming the report that President Heureaux had been assassinated. The president had long been unpopular with his subjects and several times there have been threatened insurrections.

Heureaux was assassinated at about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The name of the murderer is known. He succeeded in killing the president, but an energetic pursuit was at once begun. It is probable that he will soon be captured.

Vice President Gen. Wenceslao R. R. immediately upon the announcement of the president's death, assumed the direction of affairs. Calmness prevails everywhere.

LUETGERT DEAD

Sudden Death Today in Juliet State Prison.

Recalls a Noted Chicago Murder Case, Trial, Etc.—Heart Disease or Suicide.

JULIET, Ill., July 27.—Adolph Luetgert, the famous Chicago wife murderer, died suddenly in his cell at the penitentiary here this morning. It is reported heart disease was the cause of his death. He was found by the guards in a dying condition and expired before medical aid could be summoned. Another report, however, says the prisoner committed suicide.

Luetgert's trial was one of the most sensational ever heard in Chicago or the United States. He was convicted of killing his wife in his sausage factory and boiling her body in a powerful solution of potash to remove all traces of the crime. A few bones, some teeth, a corset steel and strands of hair—the only portions of the body of the supposed murdered woman were found and "twas upon these mute evidences of the alleged crime that Luetgert's conviction was principally based.

The first trial resulted in a disagreement, but he was sentenced to life imprisonment on the second trial. The sentence was imposed with the hope that Luetgert might some day return.

PETER MITCHELL DEAD.

Was 41 Years Old and Came to This Country From Scotland.

Peter Mitchell, aged 41, and who drove a milk wagon, and suddenly this morning from heart failure about 9 o'clock. The symptoms were without immediate warning, but he had been ill for a year past, but was at times apparently all right. The deceased was born in Scotland, and came to this country about 20 years ago. He was unmarried, and lived at 1301 Broadway. He leaves two sisters, one residing here and one in New York, and a brother at Paducah Junction. His father, Alexander, died about a year and a half ago.

Mr. Mitchell was able to go out on his wagon this morning, and returned about 9 o'clock. He said to a member of his family that he did not feel well and believed he would be down. He did so and when next observed he was dead. The funeral will take place some time tomorrow.

FILTER PATENTED.

Mr. Sam Foreman Gets Up a Good Invention.

Mr. Sam Foreman has invented a filter, it is claimed, on the market. It is a small, clear, pure water filter. It is a small, clear, pure water filter. It is a small, clear, pure water filter. It is a small, clear, pure water filter.

Mr. Foreman and City Attorney Lightfoot returned yesterday from St. Louis, where they made a test of the filter, and found it to compare favorably with any on the market, and that it filters water in much larger quantities, and with just as good results, as any of the other filters. An order has been placed with a St. Louis firm for 500 of them, and they will be shipped to the firm, which has assumed the agency. Several will be received here in a few days. No stock company will be formed for the sale of them.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS.

Some of the Rumors About the Present Council.

Some little interest is being awakened in the forthcoming municipal primary, on September 5, but as yet no one has announced his candidacy for a place on the Democratic ticket. It is reported that no less than three, and perhaps as many as eight, of the present city council will run for places on the next municipal ticket. One called, but no one has yet accepted.

One thing is evident, from reports heard on the streets, and that is that the next council must be composed of men who are willing to build up the town and judiciously invest the city's money.

THE OUTLOOK.

Gov. Brown's Announcement for Governor a Bomb Shell.

Louisville Post, 26th.—Telegrams have been pouring into Gov. John Young Brown from all over the state today congratulating him on his brave stand, and promising him the most ardent support.

Evening Post special have been received, showing that the popular ex-governor will secure a warm welcome and hearty support all over the state.

It is conceded that Gov. Brown is today the strongest living Democrat, and it is thought he will sweep the state. (Cobdenism is doomed, and even his warmest supporters in many places acknowledge defeat already.)

Brown's candidacy means the redemption of the state from organized gangs of politicians, who, having captured the machinery, are attempting to capture the offices and disfranchise the honest voters of the state.

Gov. Brown said this morning that the outlook was so encouraging as to be absolutely incredible.

"I knew that the revolt was deep-seated," said the governor, "but I had no idea that there would be any such spontaneous burst of feeling. The telegrams I have received are from the foremost men in the party all over the state."

Gov. Brown this afternoon was invited to address the anti-Gobbi meeting to be held at Lexington next Saturday.

ARRESTED AT LIVERPOOL.

Mother Who Had Kidnapped Her Own Child Picked.

She was accompanied here by Captain Blood, a brother of Lady Colin Campbell, and the child. Mrs. Ivot and Blood registered as man and wife and so made the passage. The child was taken from its grand parents in Baltimore, in whose custody it was placed when Mrs. Ivot secured a divorce. Mrs. Ivot was a famous Baltimore beauty when she married Ivot, who was a wealthy businessman.

STREET APPROPRIATION.

Mayor Lang Tells Where It Goes—Not Enough for the Demand.

"I have heard people criticizing the street appropriations," remarked Mayor Lang this morning. "One man said that there was not $3,500 worth of material put on the streets a year. 'This may be true, but he forgets that all the street and sidewalks and all the intersections are paid out of the clearing work, the cleaning of the gutters, and a great many other things. This indicates that the $12,000 appropriated for the streets does not go far after all.'"

HAYNES GOT BAD.

Disturbance at Key.

IN FOUR WEEKS.

Inspector George Gardner reports that the sewerage, which has been in progress for two years past, will be completed by the end of August. ## BROKE JAIL Postoffice Robbers Wanted Here Get Out at Marion.

Tunnelled Out and Made Their Escape—Reward Offered for Their Arrest.

Harry Ostrom, Harry Irwin and Ed Tabor left the county jail Tuesday morning about daylight without the authority or consent of Jailer Hand, says the Britten Press. The jailer says he locked the prisoners each in a cell Sunday night and knows the cell doors were locked good and tight as usual. The iron door that leads from the main cage to the outer corridor was also locked, at the center, near the bottom and eighteen inches from the top. Jailer Hand remained up until 12 o'clock Monday night, having a suspicion that an effort would be made to break the jail. Tuesday morning the cell doors were open, the main door was open, and there was a big hole in the brick wall beneath one of the east windows, and the three prisoners were gone.

The upper corner of the main iron door had been pried back with some strong lever and some hooks the prisoners had used as a prop to keep the pried section back, while the men crawled out of the small opening. Once in the outer corridor it was an easy matter to go through the brick wall.

A posse spent all day Tuesday in the woods southwest of town searching but the escaped men were not found. Ostrom and Irwin are charged with breaking into the store at Caveville. Tabor was fined for gambling and sent to prison. A reward of $50 has been offered for Ostrom and Irwin. Jailer Hand thinks they were assisted by persons from the outside. He thinks they were supplied with an iron bar for prizing and took it away with them.

The men are the same ones who are wanted by the government authorities here for breaking into the postoffice at Caveville, which is in the store robbed. Deputy Marshal La Rue went up to Marion after them a few weeks ago, but the civil authorities would not turn them over to him.

ON A BENCH WARRANT.

THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1909.

Without entering into a discussion of the merits of the respective factions in the Democratic party, it may be said that those Democrats who in response to the announcement of the candidacy of ex-Governor John Young Brown for the gubernatorial nomination of the so-called "bolters," have attacked the integrity of that tried and true warrior by alleging that he was induced by unfair means to run, or for any dishonorable purpose has entered the race, are assailing him at his most invulnerable point. Ex-

Governor Brown is a man who has always honored his party and has been in turn honored by it, but he is a man with the courage of his convictions, which are always the result of close study and the highest aims. He fears nothing. The cause is greater than any man with him, and for that cause, whatever it may be, he will make any sacrifice. His Democracy like his integrity has never been questioned, and he has for years valiantly fought the battles of the party from one end of the state to the other.

Those who have fought side by side with him well know that he will never desert a cause that is right, and as long as the real party banner is unfurled he will be found fighting to maintain its supremacy, but when the black flag of anarchy, murder and run is hoisted in its stead, he will surely turn his weapons against it, and it needs be, go down in political defeat and death. That's the kind of man he is, and of this those who know him best are most fully convinced.

Whatever his purpose may be for entering this contest now, it may be safely asserted that it is an honor to him, and one that he believes is right. He has nothing to expect from the gang that now dominates Kentucky Democracy, and will be no worse off so far as they are concerned on account of the step he has taken than if he had stood idly by and seen them prostitute the cause of Democracy for political greed and the gratification of dishonest ambition. If John Young Brown believes as many do, that the unwarranted trail of Goeblism in Kentucky is a menace, or that a safe, honest and upright administration of public affairs in Kentucky would be precluded or jeopardized by the elevation to power of Goebel and his gang, he is just the man to do all in his power to prevent it, no matter whom it pleases or displeases, nor even if it does, as has been claimed, mean political suicide. If any of the personal or political friends of the former governor imagine for a moment that he will knowingly conspire with them to commit a wrong and stifle the voice of the people, they will soon, if they have not already done so, discover their mistake. Before he would lend his aid or encouragement to such disreputable methods, he would sacrifice every political hope and ambition he ever had, no matter if such false friends desert him by the hundreds.

He may be ostracized by the gang now attempting to control the state, but he will be found fighting on the side of right, and will give them a battle royal in the meantime. In the end he will find the majority of his party with him, for Goeblism can never prevail in this grand old commonwealth.

The Populists meet in state convention in Frankfort tomorrow. There is just a probability that the body, in view of the condition of the Democratic party, may attempt an indirect coalition by recommending if not endorsing the candidacy of the Hon.

John Young Brown for governor and leaving his selection to the proposed Lexington gathering of August 2.

The Louisville Times would be fac-tious over the prospective candidacy of Governor Brown for the executive crab, but the seriousness of the matter won't down. The spirit of the Times is that of the whistling boy passing a graveyard—it makes some noise but is greatly out of tune.

The Lexington Herald takes the position that, as the recent Democratic state convention adopted the credentials committee's report by only 141 votes in a convention of 1,092 votes, that body ceased to be a Democratic convention, and its action was invalid. In view of this fact the Herald says that Chairman

Johnson is still chairman of the Democratic state central committee.

Instead of A. W. Young, who was chosen by the convention, and that all proceedings are invalid. This point will be discussed at the state conference to be held August 2 in Lexington.

Goeblism is doomed.

If the other nominees of the Democratic ticket want a shadow of a chance for election they had better ask Goebel to resign forthwith. It is already settled that he is doomed to defeat.

In the Louisville Post one of the brightest editors in the state and one of the most earnest workers for the cause of pure politics, morality and law and order—the Independent

Democrats have a champion worthy of their efforts to turn down Goebelism and all the terrors it implies. The paper is a great credit to its management.

Manager McLean, who wants to be governor of Ohio on the Democratic ticket, endorses Goebel and Goebelism in his paper, the Cincinnati Enquirer. Ohio should be praying to be shared even the candidacy of a man who would endorse Goeblism even if that man was not Manager McLean.

The Sun's telegraphic report is a very good one. Not only the neighborhood news but the intelligence of the world at large is printed. If you would keep posted you must read

The Sun.

Some of the Goeblite papers say that only the railroad employees are against the Louisville convention of nominees. If this is the size of the opposition then Mr. Goebel's name is unlucky. There are enough rail-roaders in the state to elect a ticket of their own should they see fit to do so, and the effort of the Goeblites to raise opposition to them in the way they are endeavoring to do will only solidify them and make certain the defeat of the demagogue who heads the Louisville ticket.

The Goeblites have started the "I bet you" bluff game. The question is, Whence comes all this betting stuff?

Abuse is to be the stock in trade of the Goeblites, it is clear. Every opponent of Goebel who appears is instantly vilified by some one of the gang. Now note what will be said by the very men whom Governor Brown brought into prominence of his candidacy. They will swallow every word they have said of him in the past and endeavor to blacken his character just because he is disposed to still be honest in his politics.

This is politics with some people, it being just their size, but thanks to true and personal respectability, the state has many citizens who are not politicians and wouldn't be if they could at such sacrifice as some men make. Abuse is poor campaign material and it is sometimes very costly too.

The Goeblites have adopted it as a new way to electioneer. They pretend to poll a county and then give out a report as to who won't vote for Goebel. The announcements are something like this: The leading Democrats of ——— had a trusted man to canvass each precinct of the county and learn how many members of the party would not support Goebel.

Only one Democrat was found who avowed he would not support the king of Kentucky. The words "trusted" man, etc., would seem to be
